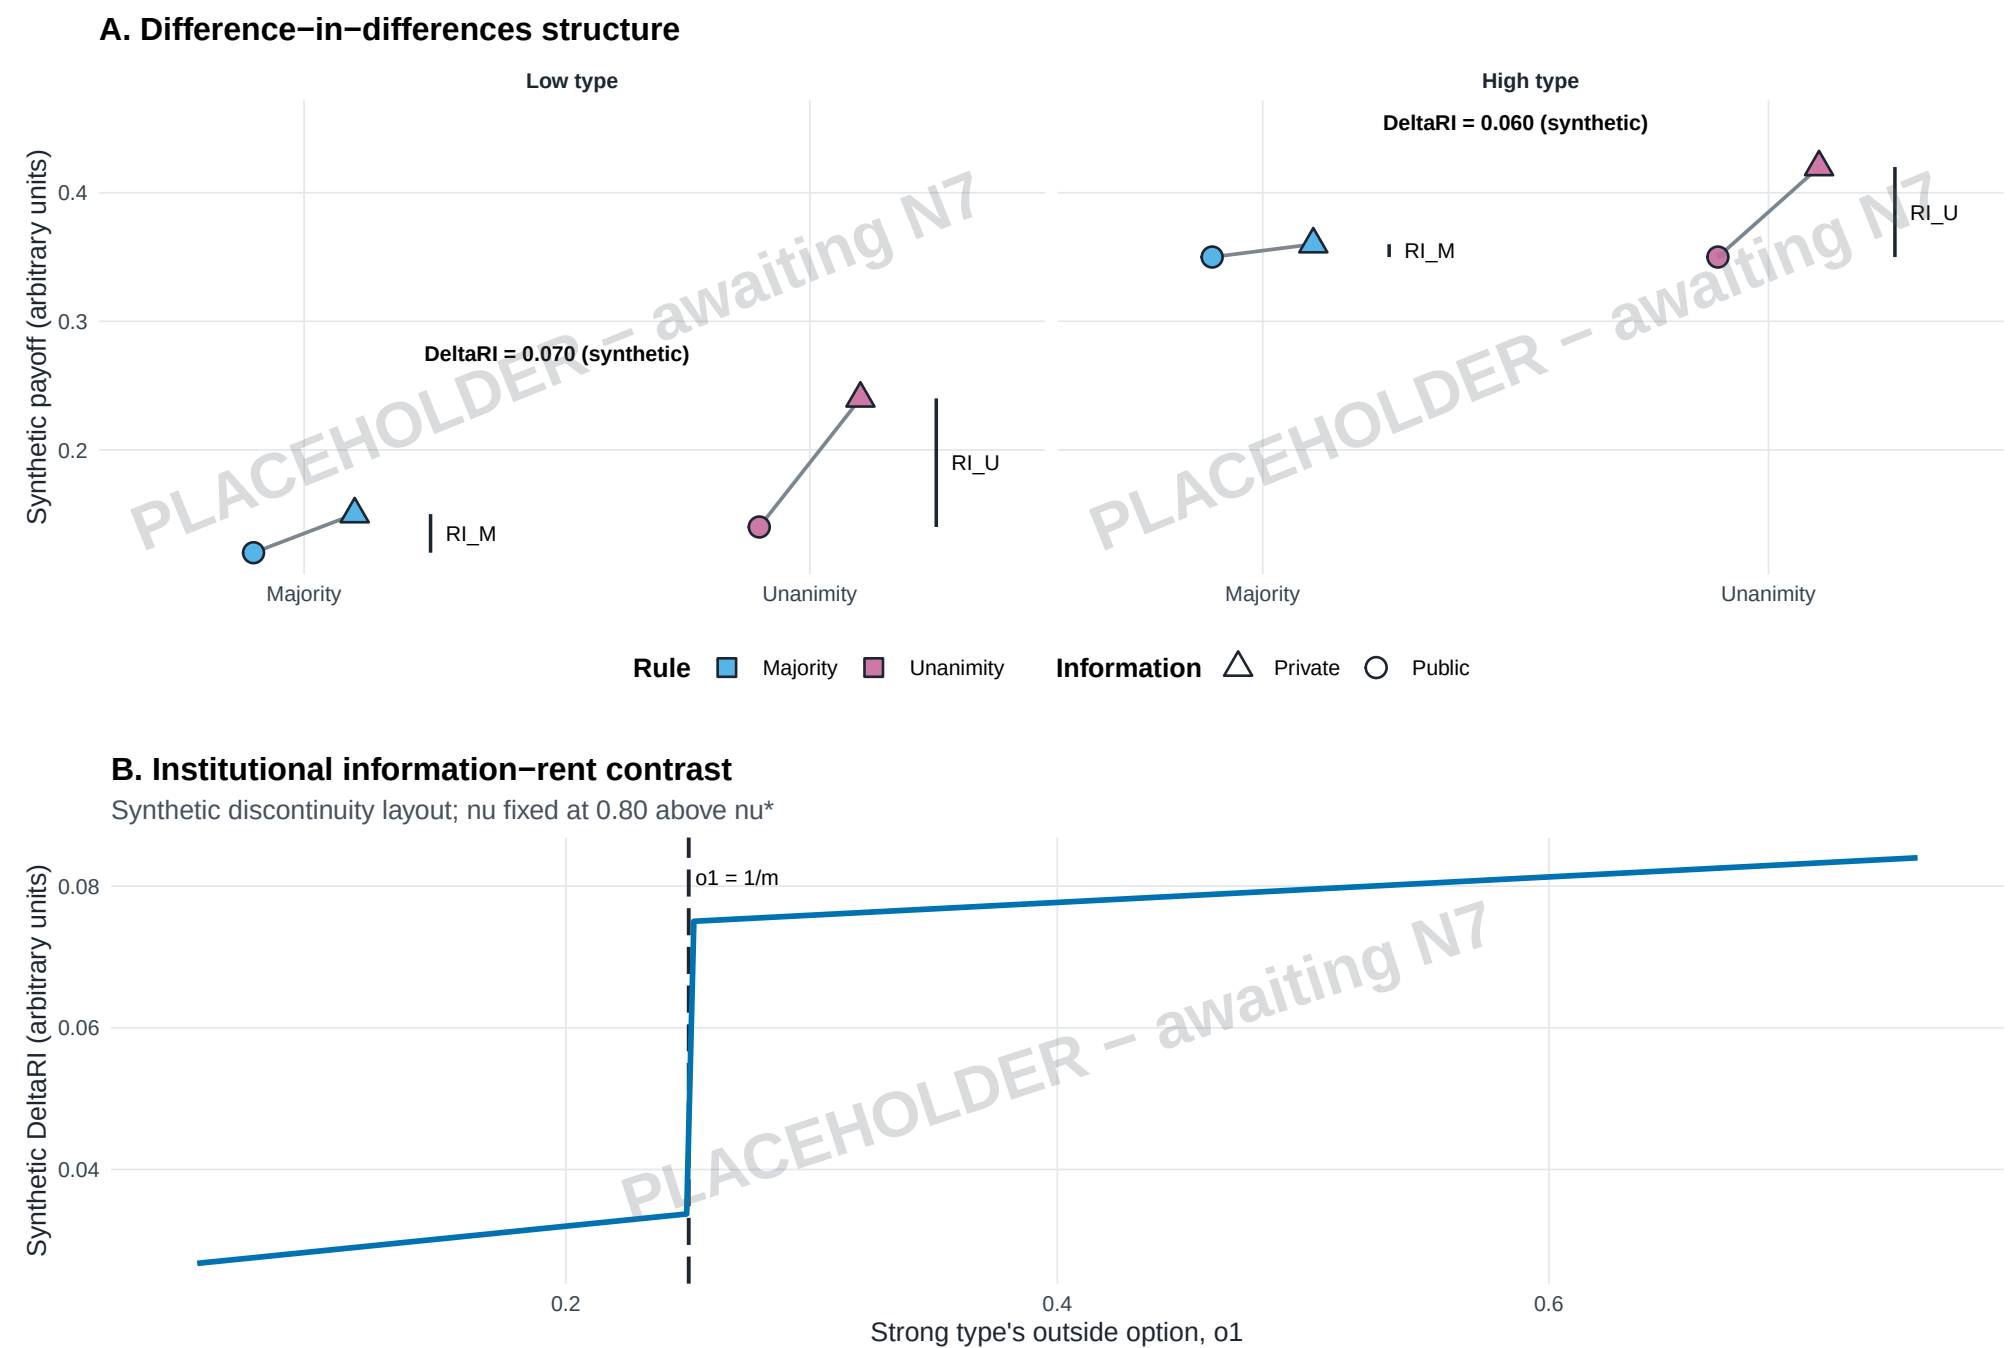

Figure F3. Placeholder architecture for separating institutional power from informational power. Panel A shows the intended four-point comparison of public and private information under majority and unanimity for each hegemon type; vertical brackets define RI_M and RI_U, and their difference defines DeltaRI. Panel B shows the intended discontinuity-style display of DeltaRI against hegemonic power at a prior above nu*. All displayed values are synthetic and carry no substantive interpretation; the plotting function accepts real public/private and contrast data as arguments once the public benchmark is available. Note: Synthetic placeholder only; no public-benchmark result is consumed.
